OUR APPROACH

Relationships are at the centre of what we do

We work from a whole systems approach

Our primary accountability is to national organisations

Organisations invest in the process in some way

We aim to provide a unique response through our work with each organisation, based on their particular needs and priorities

We facilitate processes to encourage collective action across organisations

Organisations take charge of their own development

We work with organisations who approach us

Supporting the development of civil society organisations in Africa to reach their full potential and achieve real, positive change for environmental and social justice
"Thanks to Well Grounded, la Maison de l’enfant et de la femme pygmée has carried out its first organisational audit, which will enable it to make better forward projections. Additionally, its dream of developing and owning its own projects is now becoming a reality."

We provide organisation development by offering diagnosis, analysis and evaluation, followed by facilitation, coaching and workshops to address priorities that we and our clients identify together.

Our vision
A WORLD IN WHICH ALL PEOPLE ARE ABLE TO SEEK AND SECURE JUSTICE AND SUSTAINABILITY IN THE MANAGEMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

In African forest countries, there are many inspiring individuals and organisations who are working to make a positive change for their communities and to protect their natural resources for the future. However, they often meet organisational challenges preventing them from having a bigger impact.

Well Grounded was created to support organisations to tackle these problems and reach their goals.
